Woman charged in abduction

By AL POST
ANP Staff Writer

A 20-year-old Romulus woman was arrested and charged with kidnapping and criminally sexually assaulting an 18-year-old Detroit woman earlier this month.

Romulus police said the victim also was sexually abused by a Dearborn man and a juvenile Romulus girl.

According to the victim's story, police said, she met the Dearborn man (who she previously knew) at a Detroit billiard hall the evening of May 6. The man talked her into stepping outside near his car, police said, and when she did the trio forced her inside the car and drove her to a townhouse in the 8500 block of Wahrman Street.

There, the victim said, the trio sexually abused her and later drove her to Michigan Avenue and Venoy Road in Wayne, where they dropped her off.

The victim made contact with the Wayne Police Department, who in turn contacted the Romulus Police.

After extensive questioning, the Romulus Police identified the trio as Romulus and Dearborn residents.

The Romulus woman has been charged with kidnapping and two counts of criminal sexual assault with intent to do bodily harm. Bail has been set at $25,000 cash. A hearing has been set for 9 a.m. May 27.

A warrant has been issued for the 20-year-old Dearborn man sought in the assault. The juvenile also will be apprehended and faces juvenile court proceedings.

Hugs are better

The students were encouraged to bring their grandparents or other special adult to school where they were treated to a continental breakfast, a brief student program and then urged to attend the child's class for special joint activities. School authorities said 310 grandparents and visitors attended the event. ANP photo by Kent Garner

Housing starts to aid jobless

By AL POST
ANP Staff Writer

Protests by U.S. mayors in Washington, D.C. may heighten the awareness of the needs of the cities, but Romulus Mayor Beverly McAnally feels it will not result in any funds trickling down to the local level here.

"The only things that seem to trickle down to cities now are the additional costs and responsibilities passed on to local governments," McAnally said, "President Bush is totally insensitive to the needs of the inner city...but what can we expect from a millionaire oilman from Texas?"

McAnally believes federal and state governments continue to treat the cities as the problem rather than as elected units seeking to create solutions.

Federal and state revenue sharing funds have been delayed or have disappeared completely, but "local governments are still passed mandates without any funding provisions to enact them," McAnally said.

The city of Romulus alone has lost over $2 million in revenue sharing funds, she said, and the city has "battled hard to exist without those funds."

With Romulus currently battling a 13 percent unemployment rate, McAnally hopes that the 1992 home building effort will cut into the jobless rate.

Dennis Oakes, local community development director, said all of the developers have stated that it is cheaper to use local labor on these projects. Many in the trades may benefit from this current housing growth spurt, he said.

One group of 81 manufactured housing units -- to be known as Rudgate West -- is slated to be finished prior to the end of August. Each unit will sell for about $40,000 or more and will be located in the area of Ecorse Road and Hannan Street.

Beverly McAnally

These homes will be purchased, but the owners must also pay rent on the land the homes sit on, Oakes said.

Another set of more than 100 housing units will be erected in the Fourth Street area and will be marketed by two developers for about $60,000 per unit.

These permanent modular homes will be sold along with the property they are located on. The sites on the westside of Fourth Street are being marketed by Park Hurst Homes and those on the eastside are being offered by Robert Taeke of New Boston.

Oakes said that full utility and sewerage service hookups are already available at the sites.

Two new housing applications also will be heard next Tuesday night at the City Council meeting for 19 housing lots currently owned by the city at Eureka Road and Middlebelt.

These new housing starts will add jobs to the area, McAnally said, and will bring in funds to the cash-strapped city for years to come.

Purchase of facsimile machines defended

Editor's note: This is the fifth and last article highlighting backgrounds of local school board candidates and the issues facing the district.

By AL POST
ANP Staff Writer

Pat Patterson

minutes, Patterson said.

"Just this past week Superintendent Dr. William Bedell faxed us information on Thursday night on the need for a special Sunday meeting called to update the board members on the current negotiations with teachers," he said.

Patterson reminded voters that the fax machines are used by board members only while they serve on the board. When they leave the board, the fax machines are returned to the board office.

Personal use of the fax machines is billed to the board member's personal phone bill, he said.

The other financial issue raised by opposition candidates pertained to educational trips board members reportedly had taken at district expense.

Patterson said he had only taken five trips outside the state in his eight years on the board.

The first trip he took was in 1986 for a three-day principals' conference to New Orleans. At that time, Patterson said, it was required that an administration person attend any principal for such a conference.

He also took two trips to International Business Machine sessions, one in 1990 for two days and the second in 1991 for one day. The first trip was to Orlando, Fla., for an IBM technology conference, while the second was to meet with an IBM vice president of educational services on potential computer and software purchases.

Patterson said he also took two five-day conferences, one to a School Board Conference in 1991 to San Francisco and the other this past year to Orlando, Fla., for a school conference.

A third issue defended by Patterson was that of the district's low Michigan Educational Assessment scores.

Since the district's poor test score showings this school year, the district has formed numerous committees relating to the issue and conducted workshops to address the student needs, the incumbent school board member said.

"Preliminary reports indicate improvement in our California Achievement Scores taken a month ago," Patterson said, and we "expect similar improvement in the MEAP" scores.

Patterson, 45, a lifelong resident of Romulus, is employed as operations supervisor at Sun Pipe Line Co. of Romulus and Taylor.

ROMULUS NEWS DIGEST

2 men arrested for school incidences

Two of out-of-town residents were arrested by Romulus Police on May 13 on charges they allegedly stole aluminum furnace dampers from the old Hayti Elementary School.

Being held on breaking and entering charges are Frederick Adair Jr., 20, of Wayne, and Glenn Lewis, 19, of Dearborn Heights. Bail for Adair was set at $10,000 cash and Lewis at $5,000.

Police were called to the former elementary school at 2 a.m. May 13 and reportedly spotted the men inside the building, according to police.

Numerous building materials were found outside the school and in the exit area. The value of the materials outside the school was listed at close to $1,000, police said.

Canton man caught in local body shop

A 17-year-old Canton Township resident reportedly was caught by Romulus Police last Thursday morning, while attempting to burglarize a body shop in the 28000 block of Van Born Road, according to police reports of the incident.

Police said they were alerted by a burglar alarm that sounded about 4:25 a.m. and found a pair of men inside the shop.

One of the alleged burglars reportedly climbed out a hole they had kicked in a rear overhead door and fled.

Police apprehended Vincent Wallace of Canton and found numerous piles of tools and power drills stacked near the door.

Wallace was arraigned and placed in the Wayne County Prosecutor's Diversion Program. He currently is free on his own personal recognition.

The second suspect is still being sought.

Pitoniak seeks redistricted seat

State Rep. Gregory E. Pitoniak, (D-Taylor) will seek re-election to a redrawn Michigan House of Representatives seat that includes the cities of Romulus and Taylor.

State Rep. James Kosteva is the current state representative.

Pitoniak said, "Romulus and Taylor have much in common, but I realize that each has its own unique concerns and characteristics."

Pitoniak, first elected to the state House in 1988, is a former Taylor councilman. He also formerly served as the director of Economic Development Corp. of Wayne County and executive director of the Economic Development Corp. of Wayne County.

He and his wife, Denise, have two children, Gregory and Mallory.

The new 22nd district includes all of Romulus and most of Taylor.

Health center director honored

Kate Conway, director of the Romulus Adolescent Health Center, has been presented with an alumni award by the University of Detroit Mercy.

The award is presented to a student in the Health Services Administration program for "excellence and service to the community."

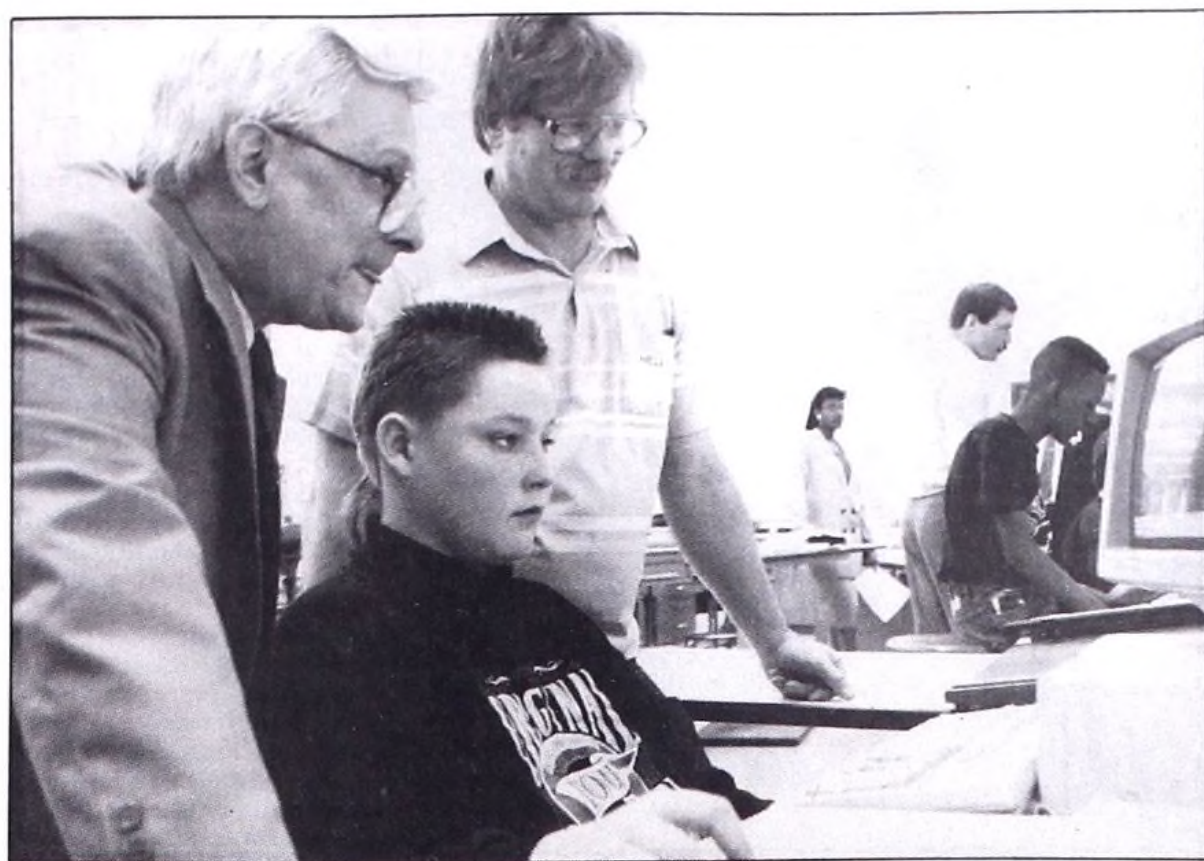

Conway has a 3.91 grade point average and was cited for her work with the health center.

Conway reported, "the dean of the HSA program has used our center in his classes as an example of a small agency providing quality health care."

Business-school ties growing

Business and industry leaders took an in-depth look at the programs offered at Romulus Senior High School, and reported that they liked what they saw.

More than 60 industry and business leaders joined with RSHS teachers and students recently at the second annual Business Visitation Day.

Ed Clark, director of the Business Education Alliance Committee, revealed that the visitation allowed business leaders to inspect the school's technology, to see the students in a classroom atmosphere and to watch the mode of teacher training.

Last year students and teachers visited business plants. This year the group decided to reverse the process.

Clark said the business representatives had high praise for the Romulus teachers commitment and the school technology.

"They felt we were ahead of other communities in this effort and had an excellent support system for the students," Clark said.

A side benefit for the day was the chance that businessmen and women took in networking with each other concerning on-the-job experience and critical but similar business needs and how to obtain them locally, Clark said.

Some new business representatives were so impressed with the day's events, they sought information on how to get involved with the current Partnership with Education effort that teams businesses with various in-school activities, Clark said.

Clark said each representative was furnished with a student guide for the day and all commented on the quality of the students as guides. Some invited the students to seek out summer jobs with their firms and others passed out business cards and offered to act as references for such jobs.

One of the highlights of the day was hearing the businessmen and women saying they wish they had more time to spend with the students, Clark said.

scheduled to become a manufactured home community."

Since the Romulus school system is "out of formula" it would not receive any additional state aid if in the future hundreds of children living in the planned homes entered the Romulus schools, school officials said.

The manufactured homes are technically listed as mobile homes on tax rolls and would present the Romulus School District with only about $30 in revenue per home.

The city of Romulus, like many other communities, is seeking to have the state legislature change tax rules on such homes to make them more in line with other home owners, but lobbying by mobile home interests appears to be blocking any such change in the near future, Romulus city and school officials said.

Wayne-Westland schools, on the other hand, are "in formula" and could receive more than $600,000 in state aid if those expected 150 or more students enter its schools.

The Romulus School board members' decision was made solely on financial issues, Art McFarlin, administrative assistant to Superintendent of Schools Dr. William Bedell, said.

"A secondary issue was the possible need to construct another school building if several hundred children moved into that area and entered the Romulus school district," McFarlin said.

Individuals had complained that transferring Romulus students to a school outside the city will further diminish those homeowners' identity with Romulus.

"The Romulus children would develop major friends in the Wayne-Westland School system...which in turn would further erode their involvement with their own hometown," noted individuals critical of the plan.

Romulus School Board member Pat Patterson said the board discussed this issue at three meetings prior to voting to seek the transfer.

"We did it to back existing families, who have financially supported the district's technology update," Patterson said. "To bring additional students from that subdivision into the Romulus school district could dilute the impact of

Romulus woman seeks primary win

Catalina Hall, a Romulus resident for the past 8 years, believes the Romulus area needs a "choice" in the upcoming Democratic primary for state representative.

Hall, who is a strong supporter of women's right to abortions, vowed she will not be a one-issue candidate.

Hall, 40, a counselor at the Northland Family Planning office of Romulus, will be challenging State Rep. Gregory E. Pitoniak of Taylor, who will be seeking the seat in the newly drawn 22nd District.

The new district will include all of Romulus and most of Taylor. (See story on Pitoniak in The Romulus Roman Digest.)

Hall said she would have sought election even if the district had not been changed and if Rep. James Kosteva was still the Romulus representative.

"Kosteva supported the anti-abortion wing of the community and I feel that the community needs a choice today," she said.

Married and the mother of two children and two step-children, Hall has been active with the Hale Creek Elementary School Parent Teachers Guide and has been on the parent advisory committee of the Romulus Senior High School Adolescent Health Center.

Hall said she was inspired to enter the race (her first attempt at elected office) by the dramatic win by Carol Moseley Braun over incumbent U.S. Senator Alan Dixon in Illinois earlier this year.

"It took a lot of guts to get into a race with an incumbent as strong as Dixon," Hall said, "and I hope to use some of that same spirit to win here in the 22nd District."

Hall admits to having no name recognition in Taylor, but she believes her opponent is not well known to voters in Romulus.

She is active with the Detroit branch of the American Civil Liberties Union, Planned Parenthood, Michigan Abortion Rights Action League, the Religious Coalition for Abortion Rights and the National Organization for Women.

The primary is slated for Aug. 4.

Vending machine robbery reported

A weekend burglar cracked into several vending machines and an office safe at the Shady Hollow Golf Course, 34777 Smith St. early Sunday morning.

A golf course employee discovered the burglary at 5:45 a.m., when he found the dead bolt in the southside door broken.

Inside the phone lines were found cut, three vending machines were forced open and the door to the office broken.

The intruders also rolled the office safe outside and cracked it open and removed its contents. Also stolen was a quantity of beer, liquor and golf equipment.

The cash and stolen items were valued at $5,000, police reported. More than $600 in damages also was reported by the golf course.

Candidates' night scheduled Thursday

The first, and possibly only, 1992 Romulus Community School Board candidate's night is slated for 7 p.m. Thursday May 28 at Romulus Senior High School.

The race involves five candidates, including two incumbents, for a pair of four-year seats.

The incumbents are Ken Berlenn and Pat Patterson. The opponents are Debra Hoffman, Pauline Calhoun and Donna Lindquist-Capron.

The candidates' night meeting will offer voters a chance to meet all five of the candidates at one time. Each will be permitted an opening statement, and will face questions from Al Post, Romulus Roman staff writer, and the voters in attendance.

If time allows, candidates may be allowed to ask questions of their opponents.

the Romulus Rotary Club and the Community United Methodist Church, as well as being the board's representative on the local Tax Increment Financing Authority.

Financial issues force Romulus schools to transfer land

By AL POST
ANP Staff Writer

Current Michigan school aid funding and mobile home taxing levels provided the financial chemistry that led the Romulus Community School District to transfer 111 acres of residential property slated for future manufactured home construction to the Wayne-Westland school district.

A transfer request was approved by members of the Romulus School Board April 13 and was supported last week by the Wayne-Westland School Board.

The transfer request was scheduled to be approved yesterday by the Wayne County Regional Education Service Agency (RESA) in Wayne. Since both sides have requested the transfer, local school officials said RESA's approval was expected.

The Romulus resolution prepared by Joel R. Carr, assistant superintendent for Finance and Operations, stated, "We have worked out an agreement with the Wayne-Westland Community Schools to accept 111 acres in the northwest section of Romulus. The area is scheduled to become a manufactured home community."

Since the Romulus school system is "out of formula" it would not receive any additional state aid if in the future hundreds of children living in the planned homes entered the Romulus schools, school officials said.

The manufactured homes are technically listed as mobile homes on tax rolls and would present the Romulus School District with only about $30 in revenue per home.

The city of Romulus, like many other communities, is seeking to have the state legislature change tax rules on such homes to make them more in line with other home owners, but lobbying by mobile home interests appears to be blocking any such change in the near future, Romulus city and school officials said.

Wayne-Westland schools, on the other hand, are "in formula" and could receive more than $600,000 in state aid if those expected 150 or more students enter its schools.

The Romulus School board members' decision was made solely on financial issues, Art McFarlin, administrative assistant to Superintendent of Schools Dr. William Bedell, said.

"A secondary issue was the possible need to construct another school building if several hundred children moved into that area and entered the Romulus school district," McFarlin said.

Individuals had complained that transferring Romulus students to a school outside the city will further diminish those homeowners' identity with Romulus.

"The Romulus children would develop major friends in the Wayne-Westland School system...which in turn would further erode their involvement with their own hometown," noted individuals critical of the plan.

Romulus School Board member Pat Patterson said the board discussed this issue at three meetings prior to voting to seek the transfer.

"We did it to back existing families, who have financially supported the district's technology update," Patterson said. "To bring additional students from that subdivision into the Romulus school district could dilute the impact of that technology program for long-term residents."

McFarlin complained, "It's the state's school funding process that is at fault, not us."

The development under discussion will be known as Rudgate Romulus and will be located at Ecorse and Hannan roads. A spokesman for the Romulus Community Development Department said 65-75 manufactured homes are planned in the first phase. Currently builders are leveling the land there and plan to construct roads as a prelude to the homes being built there. When completed, the development will have several hundred manufactured homes.

Romulus Mayor Beverly McAnally said General Motors employees, who will be transferred here in 1995 from Flint, may be some of the people who purchase homes in the subdivision.

Wayne-Westland school officials meanwhile are happy with the pending agreement. Deputy School Superintendent Thomas Svitkovich recently noted, "If the agreement is approved (Wednesday) we expect (ultimately) an approximately 125 student increase in our district. That will include 75 elementary school students, 25 junior high students and 25 senior high students."

Business owner brutally slain

By JOAN DYER-ZINNER
Belleville City Editor

Sumpter Township businessman Henry Majors was apparently beaten to death late Saturday or early Sunday morning in his home.

The attack on Mr. Majors, who had been confined to a wheelchair for the past eight years, was described as "very brutal" by Michigan State Police investigators.

Although there were no forced signs of entry to Majors' residence at 44061 Sumpter Road, state police believe the motive was robbery.

When his mother failed to reach him by telephone on Sunday, she went to his home to check on him and found the body at approximately 9:30 a.m., according to Michigan State Police. His wife, Dorothy, was visiting a sick relative in Alabama at the time of the slaying.

An autopsy was performed Monday, but results were not available at press time.

Police are asking that anyone with information about the slaying call the Flat Rock State Police Post, 782-2435.

Mr. Majors had lived in Sumpter Township since 1955, and was the operator of an adult foster care home and owned rental property in western Wayne County. Mr. Majors, who was a member of the board of directors of the Belleville Area Chamber of Commerce, was a 20-year member of the organization.

Prior to becoming disabled by multiple sclerosis, Mr. Majors owned several businesses and had electrical contractor and heating/cooling licences. He also had worked as a welder, owned a cleaning service and raised pigs, often working more than one job at a time.

In an April 23 interview in The Belleville Enterprise, Mr. Majors announced plans to "test the waters" for the reaction to his opening an adult foster care facility in Belleville.

"I don't want to waste time and I don't want to fight. I've been through enough fights in my lifetime," Majors said in the April 23 interview, referring to past battles against racial discrimination.

Henry Majors

"I'd like to open the foster care center in Belleville, but I'd like to know that I have the support of the community."

During the interview, Mr. Majors called attention to the Serenity Prayer plaque on the wall and noted that he often has people read it when they are upset and come into his office to discuss their anger.

"I have them read and reread the words. You have to understand what you can change and what you must accept and how to know the difference," Mr. Majors said.

Assistance offered to area youth

The Wayne Youth Connection was recently awarded a $17,186 Aftercare program grant to be shared with Garden City as a means to fund teen group counseling, parent group counseling and youth recreation.

Baiba Shimmell, director of the Youth Assistance program, explained the grant will assist a number of youths in the Wayne-Westland School District.

"Funding will be used for kids that have been in the program and need additional help so they don't drop out of the program," Shimmell said. "We are still figuring out the portion of the grant Wayne will get. We should know in about a week or so."

The City of Wayne sponsors Youth Assistance. Wayne Youth Connection formed in 1988 and is a community-based delinquency prevention program which works hand in hand with the public schools, the Wayne Police Department, juvenile court and families.

The goal of the program is to provide social services and a one-on-one mentorship between volunteers and referred youths, Shimmell said.

Wayne youths 7 to 16 years old can benefit from Youth Assistance which aids problems such as: truancy, drug/alcohol use, shoplifting, problems in school, family troubles and juvenile court involvement.

"We offer a variety of services including one-on-one volunteer mentorship, drug and alcohol information, work-service programs, personal growth skills group for youths, tutoring and recreational activities," Shimmell said.

When a youth is referred to the Youth Connection, an interview is first conducted, according to Shimmell.

"We will offer a variety of services to the youth or the family that will benefit them," Shimmell said.

The treatment plan could include a behavior contract, regular weekly meetings with a volunteer mentor, community work-service, group sessions and evaluations.

The length of the program is 16 to 30 weeks depending on the needs of the individual.

The Wayne Youth Connection recently was presented with the Diamond award by the United To Serve America organization which recognizes leadership programs.

Interested individuals can contact Shimmell at 729-1600. The Youth Connection is now situated in Monroe Elementary School, 5021 Biddle.

Items of mutual interest, including regional transportation, will be on the agenda when representatives of the Conference of Western Wayne and the Downriver Community Conference meet.

The two groups will meet at 7 p.m. June 4 at the DCC offices in Southgate.

CWW Executive Director

Daniel Gilmartin said the CWW/DCC Suburban Mobility Authority for Regional Transportation Task Force will submit a draft of their out-Wayne County position statement at the meeting.

The task force is made up of four representatives from each conference. Representing the CWW are Plymouth Township Supervisor Gerald Law, Garden City Mayor James Plakas, Inkster Mayor Edward Bivens and Keith Archer of Dearborn.

At the April CWW meeting, Congressman John Dingell presented an update on redistricting, airport noise, cable deregulation, census data and Rouge clean-up funding.

A report on the Western Wayne Auto Theft Elimination Effort was presented by Lt. Sandra Miller of the Michigan State Police. She reported a decrease in auto thefts since the inception of the program.

Sponsors sought for foreign students

Host families are being sought for students from Spain, Germany, France and Brazil who plan to visit western Wayne County this year.

"Students are between the ages of 15 and 18, have their own spending money and are fully insured," said Pacific Intercultural Exchange Executive Director John Doty. "They are anxious to share their cultural experiences with their new American families from a semester to a full academic year."

Representatives will match students with host families by finding common interests and lifestyles through informal in-home meetings. Students can be matched with a single parent, childless couple, retired couple or a family of any size.

Northwest Airlines officials claim financial stability

By DENNIS MANSFIELD
ANP Staff Writer

The numbers may look bad on paper, but officials of Northwest Airlines say the finances of the fourth largest air carrier are stable.

"The numbers do look bad," said Jon Austin, director of media relations for Northwest, during a presentation for local media.

"Northwest is like the rest of the industry," he added. "It's been a rough couple of years. In the first quarter, we'll report a loss."

In 1990 and 1991, estimated losses for airline carriers totaled more than $4.5 billion, with Eastern, Pan Am and Midway airlines ceasing operations. In the same period, Continental, America West and TWA airlines filed for bankruptcy.

Austin said the airline industry should be entering a period of stability, with fewer new airline companies entering the industry, allowing the survivors to grow.

Northwest is like the rest of the industry. It's been a rough couple of years.

Jon Austin
director of media relations

It is not sure, however, if this new age of prosperity will spread to Detroit Metro Airport, one of the Northwest largest operation hubs in the United States. Austin said plans for expanded operations at Metro Airport are being discussed between Northwest and Wayne County officials, but no commitment has been made.

"We are very anxious to see what the result of that is," he said. "There will be a decision to be made."

Even with bad numbers, Austin said the future of the airline looks bright as the industry looks to recover from the events dating back to 1985.

In 1985, the federal government took steps to deregulate the airline industry, which Austin said then threw it into a fare war. Austin said the Persian Gulf War also affected airline companies, causing increases in fuel prices, while driving down demand because of the fear of terrorism.

"Even the last two years when things have been bad - and they have been bad - Northwest has kept growing," Austin said. "One of the common perceptions is Northwest is debt heavy. This is an image we would like to shake."

He added the company, acquired by Wings Holdings Inc. in 1989 for $3.6 billion, recently completed the refinancing of more than $3 billion to fund the capital spending program, helping to lower interest cost and substantially prepay the loan used to purchase the airline.

"We have been repaying loans ahead of schedule," said

Austin. "We could not make any (mandatory) payments until 1993."

Austin said one reason the numbers look bad for Northwest is because the airline owns a larger percent of the planes it operates, compared to competitors which lease many of the airliners, tipping the balance sheet more toward break even point than large profits. By 1996, the airline is scheduled to take delivery of more than 160 new aircraft.

Northwest is also scheduled to spend more than $211 million in 1992 for improvements to service and equipment, including: $45 million for refurbishing aircraft interiors, $9 million for inflight video systems, $9 million for added flight attendant staffing, $10 million in staff training and $9 million in new uniforms.

The airline has planned to install individual video terminals for each passenger, allowing the person to watch a variety of movie channels, play video games, and even shop with use of their credit cards and send gifts to their destination.

"These things are going to stay in our budget. We believe these are the items that will help us be one of the number one preferred airlines," Austin said.

"We have kept our capital spending high, but not as burdensome as our competitors," he said. "We've done it by keeping a tight lid on cost."

Along with new aircraft, Northwest already purchased a new route from Hawaii to Japan for $15 million. Austin said another competitor recently purchased four routes to London for approximately $400 million.

When profits are compared to cost, Austin said Northwest will likely do better than its competitors per dollar invested.

Austin said the future of the company will be in becoming a truly global operation, and expanding upon the airline being the number one air carrier from the US to Japan. The company will also pursue a closer relationship with its European affiliate, KLM.

In 1991, Northwest and KLM began joint service between both Minneapolis and Detroit, signaling the expanding cooperation between the two air carriers in European markets. The long-term goal for both airlines could be the formation of one combined air carrier, Austin said.

"I think we are on very stable ground," Austin added. "I think we have a window of opportunity that is about four years long to become a global airline. If Northwest is to become a global airline, it will have to happen in the next four years."

State fees for monitoring local water supplies could be implemented this fall.

Members of the 18-community Conference of Western Wayne were informed that a water system fee assessment has been proposed by the state to monitor local water supplies and enforce the Michigan Safe Water Drinking Act.

"This is another case of the state saying, 'I'm your government and I'm here to help you,'" said Redford Township Supervisor James Kelly. "The fees will be used to hire a staff to watch us. Everyone is in favor of clean water, but not in favor of the state charging us to monitor ourselves."

Kelly noted that the fee for monitoring the Redford water supply would be $10,960 in 1993, $12,092 in 1994, $13,794 in 1995 and $17,000 in 1996. After that time, the fees will be reviewed annually.

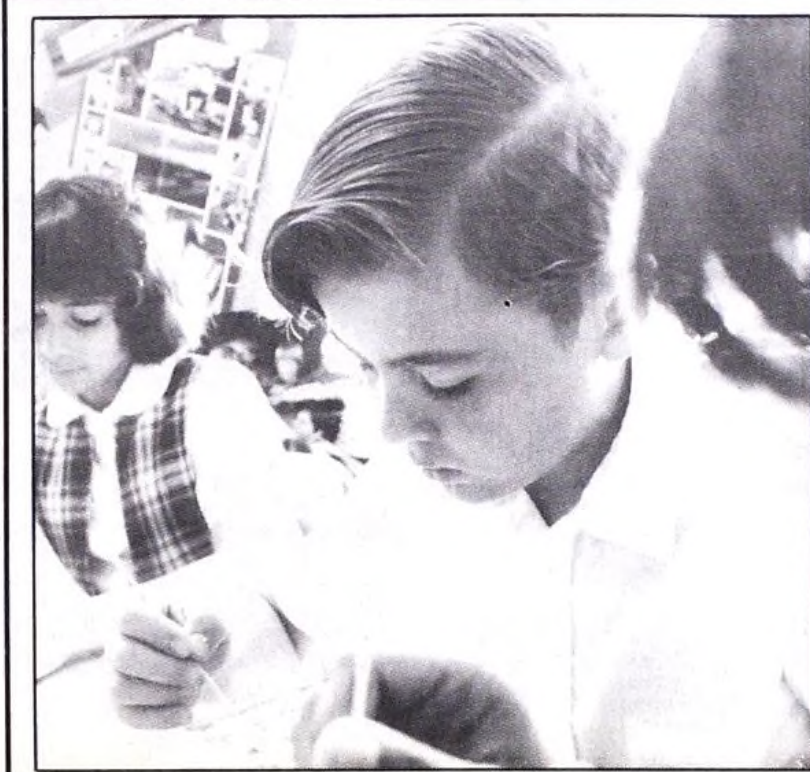

The Redford Township Water Department is one of the largest two dozen of the 1,541 community water supplies in the state.

In the first year of the assessment, communities with a population of 500,001 and more will pay a systems fee of $83,809, those with a population of between 100,000 and 500,000 will pay $17,406 and communities with a population of 50,001 to 100,000 will be assessed $10,960.

Annual monitoring fees for communities with a 25,001-50,000 population will be assessed, $6,447, those with a 10,001-25,000 population will be assessed $3,546 and those with 5,001-10,000 residents will pay $1,934, according to the state proposal.

Communities with a population of 1,001 to 5,000 will be charged $838 in 1993 and $1,300 in 1996.

Members of the regional conference expressed their opposition to the water monitoring fee proposal.

Rockets advance

John Glenn turns back Ypsilanti in pre-district class A baseball qualifier

By TERRY LYNCH
ANP Special Writer

Behind a brilliant pitching performance by seasoned hurler Aaron Scheffer, Westland John Glenn coasted to a victory over Ypsilanti in a pre-district Class A playoff game. Scheffer snuffed out the Braves, 3-0, on a one-hitter last Thursday as the Rockets made their successful debut in post-season play. The victory over Ypsi qualified Coach Norm Hoenes' club to play an always tough Plymouth-Canton in what is called a pre-district game, and the winner will advance to the district tournament. The two conference rivals were scheduled to play Tuesday at John Glenn High School. Hoenes knows of the Canton tradition for fielding outstanding baseball teams. And he also knows that coach Fred Crissey, despite a so-so 1992 season, has the ability to go all the way. "Canton didn't have their usual won-lost record, but they are always tough," Hoenes said. "And if Aaron can stay where he's been the last few games - at the top of his game - and we continue to support him - I like our chances."

Scheffer carried a no-hitter against Ypsi through two-outs in the seventh when a clean single broke the spell. "It was a classic match-up of their best pitcher versus our best pitcher," Hoenes said. And there were plenty of scouts out there to see Chris DeSilliers, one of the finest prep hurlers in the state this year. They saw DeSilliers, but they also got a good look at Scheffer. And they had to come away impressed. It was Scheffer's second great performance in two weeks. Over those two games, the Glenn senior has allowed no runs on just four hits. Against Ypsi, Scheffer notched 12 strikeouts and walked only one. Defensively sound and offensively sufficient, the Rockets hung on their hurler's arm for the win. Starting quickly, the Rocket third baseman Greg Tamus drew a walk from DeSilliers who followed with a wild-pitch, sending Tamus to second. Then, senior John Ward singled, pushing Tamus to third. Another wild pitch sent the Rockets' first and only necessary run across the plate. Ward scored soon afterward, leaving Glenn up 2-0. In the fifth, Glenn added an insurance run thanks to a couple of singles and a Braves' throwing error. DeSilliers took the loss, but fanned 12 batters along the way. "It was a fun game to watch, especially the way it turned out," Hoenes later commented. On Saturday, the Rockets participated in the Diamond Classic, a tournament rescheduled from an earlier rain out. Ironically, in the first game the Rockets drew Ypsi. They managed to edge the Braves, 5-4, in an extra innings affair that eventually ended in the 11th. Chris Kirby and Ward teamed up for the victory. Martin Potter drove in the winning run, pushing pinch-runner Bob Hayes home with a sacrifice fly. In the championship game, Willow Run upset the Rockets, 5-4. Ward started the game and worked the first three frames. The Flyers cashed in on the Rockets defense for three unearned runs and forced Glenn to play catchup the rest of the way. The Westlanders tied the game three times but fell short in the end.

Tigers blank Wayne

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

A strange thing happened to Wayne on its way to the Wolverine 'A' Conference baseball championship. Coach Jim Chronowski's Zebras ran up against a unyielding Belleville and Chuck Coleman and tumbled from the top of the hill. Coleman fired a two-hitter at the previously-seated in first-place Wayne and humbled his conference rivals, 4-0, in a crucial (for Wayne) game Friday afternoon. The loss left Wayne with an 8-3 conference record and in second place. "Our kids have the momentum and have a lot of confidence in themselves," said Belleville coach John Bertz. "Going into that game, we felt confident that we could beat Wayne. These kids got the job done." Belleville will need a dose of the same confidence today when they take the field against Ann Arbor Huron. The 4 p.m. encounter is a pre-district qualifier. Belleville beat Huron 10-2 earlier in the season and in tournament play, but Bertz warns that the do-or-die playoff situation scrambles the picture. "We knocked their pitchers around pretty good but that's no indication that it will happen again," said Bertz. "We aren't taking any team, especially Huron, lightly." Against Wayne, Coleman proved unbeatable. The Belleville junior notched 15

Belleville baseball player Chris Baker (above) hits the dirt and gets back safely to first base. Baker eventually scored thanks to Mike Komaromi's single that gave the host their first of four runs in a 4-0 victory over Wayne Memorial High School Friday afternoon. In the photo at the right, Wayne hurler Jason Wetmore unleashes a pitch against the Tigers who managed to collect five hits off of the Zebra starter. The loss knocked Wayne out of first place in the Wolverine 'A' Conference. Meanwhile, Belleville improved their record to 5-6 as the teams entered their final week of league competition. 3 errors cost Romulus district playoff berth

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Just when the pieces appeared to fit in place, they fell apart on the Romulus Eagles and coach Don Foley. The Eagles committed three costly errors that led to their demise against an opportunistic Ann Arbor Pioneer in a pre-Class A district playoff game. Pioneer capitalized on the Romulus miscues and won a 7-4 decision. "Five of their seven runs were unearned," moaned Foley. "You're not going to win when you give away that many runs." Foley went with his ace, pitcher Tim Dufore, who was the victim of the Eagle porous defense. The Romulus hurler was tagged for five runs - only one earned - in his 3 1/3 innings of work. Pioneer also collected four hits off of Dufore, who was replaced by junior Bob Bergeron. Bergeron finished up and he gave up the remaining two runs on three hits while he struck out five. Romulus erased a two-run deficit in the top of the third when the Eagles scored three times. Mike Grube ignited the rally when he worked winning pitcher Brandon Herrin for a walk. Then, Jeff Blanton sacrificed him to second and, after a strikeout, Chris Evans also fanned but made it to first when the catcher dropped the ball, and in the hustle, threw wild to first. Grube scored on the play. Evans moved to second when Herrin also walked Dufore, bringing Charles Dudonis to the plate. Dudonis, who has been the most productive hitter recently for the Eagles, came through with a two-run triple. Romulus also scored one in the sixth when Dudonis blasted his fourth homer of the season to right center field. The Eagles loaded the bases in the seventh before Herrin was removed for reliever Joe Bailey. Bailey put out the flame and fire to Romulus' playoff engine. In that seventh, Tim Howell, popped up for the Eagles first out. John Toliver, pinch-hitting for Bergeron, sliced a single and, after Evans fanned, the Pioneers decided to issue Dufore and Dudonis walks. With the bases loaded, Mark Hardin flied out for the third and final out of the game. Earlier in the week, Taylor Baptist Park made believers out of Romulus as they pounded the Eagles, 11-2. Bergeron, who may have considered filing a suit against his teammates for non-support - they made six errors - was charged with the loss. He struck out five and walked four. Only one of the 11 runs was earned. On Tuesday, Romulus split a doubleheader with Milan. They dropped a close 6-5 decision in the opener as Ron Yount went the distance, whif-

Belleville shot-putter wins regional gold in style

Barnett double winner

Belleville High School junior Alan Barnett made the most of Friday, a day that was made for track and field. The 6-4, 240-pound Barnett captured two gold medals at the Class A regional, hosted by Belleville. "He just had an outstanding day," said Belleville coach Dave Medley, who considers Barnett one of the best shot-putters and all-around prep athletes in Michigan. "He has so much potential." Barnett picked up a gold in the shot put with a 56-feet, 8-inch toss, beating out his closest rival from Ann Arbor

Huron by more than 7 inches. Barnett became the lone double gold-medalist from the area when he also won the discus with a 152-feet, 9-inch effort. Barnett will lead a local delegation to the May 30 Class A state finals which will be staged in Grand Rapids. He has an excellent chance of picking up a medal at state, according to his coach. "When it comes to competing at state, there are a lot of variables involved," Medley noted. "But I feel that Barnett has a good shot at winning a medal." One other athlete from the Belleville men's team also qualified for the state finals. Mike Kendrick, who placed sixth in the high jump, will compete at the state level. Although the top two performers of each of the individual

Buck leaps to gold

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Westland John Glenn will be represented at the Michigan High School Track and Field state championships by two athletes, including regional gold-medal winner Brandon Buck. Buck, a senior, leaped 22-feet, 10 3/4-inches to win the gold in the long jump at the Class A regional competitions staged Friday at Belleville. Buck's winning performance shattered the Glenn record of 22-feet, 1-inch, which Buck set earlier in the season.

The Westlanders also qualified Chaka Saulsberry in the high jump. Saulsberry's leap of 6-feet, 2-inches gave him the silver. Officials had to revert to the number-of-misses rule after at least six others cleared that height and wound up in a seven-way tie to determine who would get the silver and bronze medals. Coach Jess Shough had the second-best 400-meter relay team at Belleville. Shough's lineup included Kevin Claypool, Buck, Edward Malloy and Randy Ellison, who turned in a 44.3. The Rockets' 800-meter relay team was "nosed out" by Ann Arbor Pioneer and missed qualifying for state. Glenn finished fourth in the event with Malloy, Buck, Brian Schultz and Ellison who combined for a 1:33.0.

Vikings qualify 2 relays

Inkster High School women's relay teams left their mark on the Class B regional track and field championships staged at Ypsilanti Lincoln. The Vikings captured a pair of first-places in the speed relays and also produced a silver medalist in the 200-meter dash. In the 400-meter relay, Inkster put on the field Faith Henderson, Lacreia Tyus, Tamika Gibson and Charnell Lynn, who responded with a 51.6, the best time for the event. The Viking coaches decided also to go with the same lineup for the 4 by 200 meter relay and again the foursome emerged with the gold. Henderson, Tyus, Gibson and Lynn covered the distance in sterling fashion, winning it in 1:50.4. Tyus also qualified in the 200-meters, crossing the finish line with the second best (26.2) time. Teammate Lynn was fourth in the event. She hit the tape in 26.6, which also is under the state-qualifying time for the event. In the men's division, Inkster will take the 400-meter relay team to the state finals. The Class B state championships are also scheduled for May 30, but at Wyoming Park in Grand Rapids. The Vikings had Terry Dicks, James Outlaw, Greg Prewitt and Mondo Perdue in the 400. The foursome was clocked in 44.7, good for fourth-place but also meeting the state-

The two Ann Arbor high schools - Pioneer and Huron - dominated the Belleville regional. Pioneer compiled 129 points for first-place, while Huron was runner-up with 105.

The top area finisher was Westland John Glenn. The Rockets were fifth overall with 35 points; Wayne Memorial was sixth (32); Plymouth-Canton, seventh (29); Belleville, eighth (27); Plymouth-Salem(19); and Romulus, 14th.

In the meantime, Belleville premier distance runner, Anne Gray, continued to sparkle. The 16-year-old junior led the 3,200-meter pack and finished with a gold thanks to her 11:33.0 performance.

The Tigers also qualified Sara Bowers, whose 5-foot, 0-inch leap in the high jump, gave her a seventh-place finish. The height is within the state-qualifying standards.

Ann Arbor Pioneers came away with the first-place team trophy in the women's division.

Pole vaulter Ken Costantino also finished fourth. He cleared 11 feet, 8 inches. The state-qualifying standard is 12 feet, 2 inches.

Last night, the Rockets traveled to Farmington to compete in the Western Lakes Conference championships. Though is confident that his team, coming off of a 5-0 record in the Lakes Division of the conference, will be "very competitive."

"There are some very tough teams over there in the Western Division," Shough stressed, "but we're confident that we can be very competitive with those teams."

fed two, walked two and walked away with his third loss in six starts.

Dufore strung together two singles and a double while Yount finished with a pair of RBIs.

In the nightcap, Dufore was credited with a 4-2 victory in relief of starter Dudonis, who went the first three innings and gave up two hits. Dufore had three innings of no-hit ball, while Yount got the save, pitching the final frame.

Rick Luczak put one over the left field fence in the sixth to help the Eagle cause. Dudonis finished with a pair of doubles, and Dufore had a single and a double.

Foley and his club will bring the curtains down on the 1992 campaign on Wednesday when they host neighboring New Boston Huron for a twin bill. They also have a pair of non-conference games with former conference foe, Pioneer, at home on Tuesday. They began the week with a 6-8 record, but had to play two with Robichaud on Monday and a pair Tuesday with Adrian before returning home last night to host Ann Arbor Huron.

strikeouts, walked four and scattered two hits to chalk up his fourth personal victory against one loss.

The victory also boosted the Belleville overall record to 12-6. They entered the week with a 5-6 conference record.

Belleville got to loser Jason Wetmore for four hits and scored in the bottom of the second when Mike Komaromi drove home Chris Baker, who got aboard on a single.

Then, in the fourth, the Tigers scored two insurance runs thanks to Brian Cotner's run-scoring double and Komaromi's base hit. They also picked up a single run in their sixth as Baker singled - he was removed for pinch-runner Mike Rochan - and Rochon eventually scored on Komaromi's sacrifice fly after two Wayne errors.

Belleville swept a doubleheader Saturday from Plymouth-Canton, winning the first 3-2 and the nightcap in extra innings, 7-5.

Coleman had an excellent afternoon as he hammered eight hits in nine official appearances at the plate.

Clint Kessler carded the opening game victory as he tossed a five-hitter. Canton rallied for two runs in the bottom of the sixth but it wasn't enough.

Craig Benedict and John Stimac saw action on the mound for the losers who got a two-run homer from Tom Pascavich. He scored after Matt Paupori, who had singled.

Belleville got the winning run in the sixth thanks to a leadoff single by Komaromi, who stole second, was wild-pitched to third and dashed home on Rochon's infield base hit.

Jeremy Gray, who worked the first six-innings against Canton, left the game with the game tied at 5-all after Canton scored two runs in the bottom of the seventh. Marty Sacco took over the mound chores and got the victory.

Komaromi went four for five and Coleman had a perfect five-for-five at the plate. Patric Daugherty chipped in two hits in four plate appearances.

The Pioneers garnered 167 points. Plymouth-Salem was second (104), followed by the Rocks' natural rival, Plymouth-Canton (59.5).

qualifying time for the event.

On Tuesday, the Vikings joined the rest of the Suburban Athletic Conference pack at Highland Park to compete for the SAC titles. The Vikings are expected to be in the hunt for the women's title, but they will have to beat Oak Park for the 1992 crown.

In the men's division, River Rouge is an overwhelming favorite to walk away with the first-place trophy.

Krug opens new site

By KAREN GRANDISON
ANP Special Writer

Krug Chevrolet-Geo celebrated the grand opening this week of a new location at 13801 Telegraph in Taylor. The week started off with a private party on Tuesday and the rest of the week was commemorated with special hours to serve customers.

It was an opportunity and the locale was right.

Sigmund Krug

In a period in which auto sales are down, owner Sigmund Krug saw the opportunity to build in the downriver area.

"Why not? It was an opportunity and the locale was right," Krug said.

Krug started in the automotive dealership business in 1954 as a used car salesman. In 1967, Krug took over as general manager of Mullian Lincoln Mercury on Michigan Avenue and purchased that dealership in 1977, renaming it Krug Lincoln Mercury. Krug also owns Sigmund Dodge in Dearborn and Krug Rivertown Motors Ford-Lincoln-Mercury-Jeep Eagle in Cheyebogan. His son,

Mike, is the general manager and vice-president of the new dealership, while another son, Greg, is at the wheel in Dearborn.

Krug plans on expanding the dealership, hiring an additional 15 to 20 employees. The goal for the new location is to sell as many cars and trucks as possible, both new and used, and provide the best possible service to customers, Krug said.

Ford dealers join national test

Westland, Nov. 15 -- Area Ford dealers are participating in a "National Test Drive" program that offers local car buyers an opportunity to road test one of the auto industry's most exciting arrays of all-new 1992-model products.

Ford dealers are introducing more new cars and light trucks during the 1992-model year than during any similar period in recent history," said Toby Hynes, Merchandising Manager, Ford Division.

Major changes to Ford's product lineup include all-new Crown Victoria Touring Sedan, a redesigned F-Series pickup line, a redesigned Bronco and an all-new full-sized Econoline van and Club Wagon.

"Westland area Ford dealerships are joining Ford dealers nationwide in a one-month event designed to give new-car shoppers an opportunity to test drive the Ford products of their choice," Mr. Hynes said. "Participating dealers also are prepared to offer customers low financing terms and cash-back incentives.

"There's no question about the fact that we plan to put Westland area customers in the driver's seat. Now is definitely the time to shop for a new car or truck at a local Ford Dealership."

Undergoing its greatest change since introduction in December 1985, the Taurus has received a major redesign for 1992. A sleeker body design, a more user-friendly interior and an optional passenger-side supplemental-restraint system are just a few of many new features.

Escort adds two new four-door LX and LX-E provide five-passenger seating, spacious trunks and many standard comfort features. The LX-E is a performance model that has styled aluminum wheels, performance tires, a sport suspension and a 127-horsepower, 1.8-liter, twin-cam engine.

The new Ford Touring Sedan provides a top-of-the-line performance model for the Crown Victoria lineup. It offers buyers the traditional size and comfort of a Crown Victoria with the performance of an overhead-cam, 210-horsepower V-8 and a handling suspension.

"Exterior styling changes give the full-sized F-Series pickup, Bronco utility vehicle and Econoline van and Club Wagon a more aerodynamic, more contemporary look and their interiors are more refined and care-like as well," Mr. Hynes said.

"We know that area customers who stop by our dealerships will be particularly pleased to see Ford's commitment to safety," said Mr. Hynes. "We have air-bags on more Ford models than ever before. Both Taurus and Crown Victoria come with a standard driver's air-bag in addition to an optional passenger's air-bag. And only Ford has standard driver's air-bags in both its compact and full-sized vans."

Mileage: Is it that important?

How many miles? What's the mileage on that one? What's on the clock? That's the one question a customer will surely ask about a used vehicle. But, is it that important? Is it the single most important criteria when selecting a used vehicle? Is the mileage on the odometer always accurate? We have seen customers passing-up-well-maintained, bargain-priced units and paying literally thousands more for the same vehicle with less mileage - regardless of condition.

If all things were equal, then a vehicle with lesser mileage than an identical unit would certainly be more valuable than the latter. But, all things are not equal. In fact, in some instances they are far from equal, and that is where the smart shopper makes a good buy and the buyers whose only concern is a little number on the odometer sometimes pays a little too much.

What would you rather have: a 1988 Mustang GT that comes in with 40,000 miles on bald tires being 2 quarts low on oil with the customer bragging that it has a brand new clutch, or the same vehicle coming in with 78,000 miles having been owned by a Ford Motor Company executive who has all of the maintenance records? I know which one I would want. It may seem funny, but, when we take a sales call, everyone wants the first one.

More important than mileage is previous ownership and maintenance history. Most reputable dealers will share this information with you. Higher mileage is tolerable on a one-owner vehicle that, has been maintained in accordance with the manufacturer's specifications.

Mileage on an odometer is not always indicative of the actual mileage on the vehicle. Rolling-back odometers is virtually an extinct practice among licensed dealers as harsh criminal and civil penalties make it hardly worthwhile. Yet, the private party, with no license at stake, continues to setback miles.

Shopping for low mileage is fine, but, be careful about buying phony or abused mileage, and do not rule out getting a good value on a higher mileage, well-maintained unit.

You can always put more into a Jimmy SLE. And until June 4th, you can also put less into it.

For packing in the kids or the camping gear, on the job or on a weekend trip to the lumberyard, there's nothing like a GMC Jimmy SLE. It's got power and cargo capacity to spare - as well as luxury and comfort.

And now, Jimmy SLE has a special low monthly GMAC SMARTLEASE™ payment that'll spare your budget, too. It's well-equipped and well priced. The time is right to take advantage of a great opportunity to put yourself into a GMC Truck.

having to do with building or selling homes...

Or carpeting. Or major appliances. Or furniture. Or lawn & garden equipment or supplies.
Or paints, wall coverings, hardware, building supplies...

Then this is the best possible place for your ad.

Because this is one of the fifty
SPRING newspapers.

And the combined circulation of all these SPRING newspapers is 728,609. That is more than double the daily suburban circulation of The Detroit News
(288,960) or Free Press
(358,553).

In fact, SPRING's suburban circulation is greater than the two metro dailies' combined!

And that's not all.

According to the 1991 Belden newspaper readership study, SPRING reaches more of the affluent suburban shoppers who have more to spend—and who spend more.

- ▶ 182,800 more suburban homeowners than the daily News
(88,500 more than the Free Press).
- ▶ 171,000 more suburban Do-It-Yourselfers than The News (89,400
more than the Free Press).
- ▶ 100,600 (and 52,800) more suburban linen and bedding buyers.
- ▶ 64,400 (and 31,000) more suburban buyers of major appliances.

Simply put, one order in SPRING delivers more.

Shouldn't you be advertising in SPRING more?
